ART GROUPIE

UNTITLED, MICK TURNER

Isn't it enough to excel at one thing? ART GROUPIE 2008 is an exhibition featuring thirty musicians, producers, DJs and vocalists who also work as visual artists. With the quality of work on show we wonder how much longer it will be before the call of the gallery drowns out the sound of the crowd. Artists include Steve Kilbey [The Church], Ben Ely [Regurgitator], Mick Turner [Dirty Three] iOTA, Melanie Horsnell, and Peret Mako. See Anode web site for full listing.

Art Groupie Launch Party

Groovescooter Records' da dAdA imprint presents the return of Art Groupie. After a great response in 2006, they've doubled the number of artists and widened the scope from paintings and photography to include collage, mixed-media pieces and sculpture. Join us for the LAUNCH PARTY with live music by All India Radio and Steve Kilbey, and a free limited edition CD of music by exhibiting artists.

TERMINAL

AIR AND KILOMETRES, INGRID K BROOKER

TERMINAL is a projection window that rips up retail, kidnapping the consumer gaze for a journey into elsewhere as part of the '2042: art on the street' exhibition on King Street, Newtown. Terminal features the stunning animation work of Ingrid K Brooker - an artist, animator and multimedia creator from Melbourne. Specialising in stop motion animation, Ingrid's films are assembled from an eclectic mix of found objects and sculpted creations which transport the viewer into bizarre and wonderful worlds of imagination. With themes ranging from the merry to the macabre, Ingrid's films never fail to bemuse, perplex and intrigue audiences. To find out more go to agastopia.com

10x10

10 X 10 is a curated bookshelf that unveils precisely two hundred interesting books and films, presenting a snapshot of the times and a window into individual cultural pathways. Ten films and books have been chosen by ten people, who were in turn selected by writer, academic and composer Kate Crawford; and Marcus Westbury, founder of the This Is Not Art festival and presenter of ABC TV's Not Quite Art. Sip on a vino and watch these fascinating social recommendations unfold at this the official launch night of the very first Anode arts and music program. The night will be let loose at Sticky, an intimate back-alley bar in Surry Hills. Because of space restrictions this event is strictly guest list only. Please email heythere@decodemedia.com.au if you would like to celebrate with us.

DATE: Thursday 25th September
VENUE: Sticky (register for guestlist - heythere@decodemedia.com.au)

FREE AFTER PARTY: Glamour pour le Hammer from 10pm

GLAMOUR POUR LE HAMMER

GLAMOUR POUR LE HAMMER has run entirely under the radar as a group home for Sydney's mavericks and misfits since 2007. Under the extravagant auspices of the hostess with the mostest, the positively towering Faggot Rooster, all kinds of zig-zag wanderers gather in the secretive and sumptuous surrounds of The Colombian Hotel's upstairs cocktail lounge each and every Thursday to gad about gladly. Kicking off at 10pm with guest DJ's both renowned and unknown, released from the yoke of generic sound-catering and encouraged to indulge in freedom and favourites, the night escalates to absurd heights as resident DJ, Jack Shit (FBI), digs deep into the bowels of his massive, motley collection unearthing hidden gems and saturated phats from then - and now. Expanding indefinitely into the wee hours, the night's apex involves a live show by none other than Christa Hughes of Machine Gun Fellatio fame. Discover the ultimate antidote to Sydney's dated scene-queens, where you least expect it. Fair play. For free. All ways!

DATE: Thursday 25th September
VENUE: Cocktail Lounge, Colombian Hotel, 117-123 Oxford Street, Darlinghurst
TIME: 10pm - 3am
COST: Free

FIELD TRIP

You'll find no packed lunches and school buses here when Anode reinvents the FIELD TRIP as urban transformation. Near the Hyde Park fountain is a tunnel - your starting point for this free subterranean excursion through art and sound, projections, performance, installation, photography, and music. Along the way you'll find artist Jess Cook musing on Sydney, and Token Imagination giving a moving performance. The Australian Network for Art and Technology (ANAT) Embracing Sound Program (ESP) present the live, improvised sound art of the 20-piece Splinter Orchestra. Check out Perran Costi's Portable City installation, photography exhibitions, take a seat in the pop-up cinema, treat your ears to the sound pod, enjoy a reprise of 10 x 10, witness the Urban Dragon, hang out at the Bodega crew's car park deck party and clamber through Martin Renaud's car tunnel. You'll find surprise additions to the Field Trip itinerary on the day. And if you've got cold hard cash in your pocket, indulge your senses further with the licensed bar, and tasty snacks.

DATE: Saturday 27th September
VENUE: Domain Car Park (enter on foot from Hyde Park)

AFTER PARTY: Über Lingua

ÜBER LINGUA

ÜBER LINGUA is a growing movement of DJs, video artists and musicians based in various cities around Australia, who celebrate and promote contemporary multi-lingual music and culture. Leaving 'world music' for dust, Über Lingua's music forms melt the languages of the world into one giant toastie of Hip-hop, Electronica, Afrobeat, Gypsy, Balkan, Baile Funk, Latin, Basque and Dub plus a zillion sub-genres yet to be named. Sonic traditions are explored, communities are connected, and cultural movements given a healthy shove into the spotlight. Video, live music, dance and performance are an essential part of Über Lingua - and so are you.
